

FANNY HILL

There is an art to entertaining. Yet true professionals make it look effortless.

The professionals at Fanny Hill have been effortlessly entertaining and delighting guests for nearly 30 years. Fanny Hill, located just one mile south of Eau Claire, is a locally-owned dinner theater, restaurant, reception venue and eleven-room inn. Whether providing a show in their cozy theatre or serving beautifully presented food in the restaurant, Fanny Hill has a way of making guests feel welcome.

Fanny Hill's location makes the venue better yet. Located in a wooded, expansive setting, you feel as though you've driven many miles away from the city into a serene country estate. The beauty is practically endless at Fanny Hill; extending beyond the manicured property is the Chippewa River Valley and roaming hills of wooded countryside.

SCENE ONE: Planning A Wedding with Fanny Hill

With all the amenities that Fanny Hill has to offer, it is the perfect place for wedding receptions: "Fanny Hill is well known for our ability to entertain," says Nancy Mosel, director of marketing. "So hosting wedding ceremonies and receptions comes easily for our experienced staff. Our inviting décor, award-winning menus and exceptional customer service impresses wedding guests."

Couples planning a wedding with Fanny Hill are paired with the in-house wedding consultant who will ensure every detail is in place. Michelle Larson, Sales and Catering Manager, is the first person brides and grooms meet when visiting the property. She is available throughout each stage of the planning process and is onsite throughout the event to ensure all details are in order.

"We strive to take care of our brides and grooms from the moment they first visit the property to the last dance at their wedding reception," says Larson. "Every detail of the day is discussed in advance."

SCENE TWO: Guests Arrive

When guests meander the curved road leading up to Fanny Hill, they feel welcomed before even entering the building. Fanny Hill's grounds are private and peaceful. Each season, professional decorators pull out all the stops to make the exterior and interior shine for the season.

"The grounds look beautiful now, with the blooming gardens and lush, green landscape, yet each season is special at Fanny Hill," says Mosel. "The fall colors are spectacular, the winter décor and twinkle lights are amazing and spring-time is so colorful. The décor here has a magical feel."

SCENE THREE: A Ceremony with a View

The natural setting at Fanny Hill is a perfect backdrop for outdoor ceremonies. Wedding ceremonies can take place in one of three gardens. The Riverview Garden features stunning views of the Chippewa River, the Rose Garden is surrounded by climbing rose bushes and the East Garden features a serene pond. A 10-foot fountain spray in a pond between the Riverview and East gardens is another soothing feature. The natural beauty found throughout the property make Fanny Hill a photographer's dream, and result in stunning photographs.

Just steps away from the gardens are a wrap-around deck and tiki bar. This area allows guests to continue to enjoy the outdoors throughout the event. Guests are also invited to wander the grounds and explore the gardens.

SCENE FOUR: An Elegant Wedding Reception

Inside Fanny Hill, the beauty continues. A wall of windows allows you to see panoramic views of the grounds and river below. The gardens can easily be seen from every seat in the Riverview Ballroom, which can seat up to 250 guests, with the option of additional seating if needed.

Every inch of Fanny Hill has been carefully decorated in the Victorian style, which has a homey touch.

"Many couples find that they need to do very little decorating for their wedding because it is already beautifully done," says Mosel.

Attention to detail is also found on the menu. You can expect to find everything from stand-by favorites to elegant gourmet fare. The restaurant boasts an array of awards from AAA, Wine Spectator, Wisconsin Restaurant Association and more. Executive chef Luke Bilda knows how to make guests feel special with delicious food and creative presentation. If a custom menu is requested, Bilda is happy to sit down with each couple to welcome them to the property and tailor a menu that is appropriate for their event.

The facility has everything wedding receptions require, including a permanent dance floor, a music sound system and audiovisual equipment.

SCENE FIVE: A Welcoming Victorian Inn

Adjacent to the restaurant and dinner theatre, the eleven-room Victorian Inn provides a romantic atmosphere with private baths, whirlpools, fireplaces and homemade breakfasts. Special rates are available for wedding guests. Each room has a unique personality and charm to make guests feel at home.

Whether hosting guests at wedding receptions, in their award-winning restaurant or in their dinner theatre, Fanny Hill provides a class act. They've definitely mastered the art of entertaining with style.
